PROJECTS + EXHIBITIONS

- Spring 2020 MLA THESIS: THE COLLECTIVE GARDEN - *Harvard University Graduate School of Design
Advised by Rosalea Monacella, the design developed a protocol for socially-driven garden renewal in the Soviet-era neighborhoods of Tbilisi, the capital of the Republic of Georgia. The investigation was driven by extensive digital modeling and formal iteration through scripting and animation in Grasshopper.
- Spring 2020 LANDSCAPE CLIMATE ARCHIVE - *ASLA ADAPT
Collaborative project by a group of landscape students that aims to gather, amplify, and reflect on student design work that addresses climate change. ASLA ADAPT was founded around a 2019 petition to push for a renewed focus on climate justice in practice and the academy
- Spring 2018 EATING x BREATHING - *Kirkland Gallery, Harvard University Graduate School of Design
Collaborative project with Kira Clingen and presented with Melody Stein. Common meal worms, whose stomachs contain bacteria that can digest polystyrene, digested a small amount of the GSD's foam waste over a two week period.
- 2017-Current HEADWAY LITERARY MAGAZINE
Co-founded a literary magazine with Anna Pedersen and Hannah Walhout. The publication focuses on novel ways of capturing iteration in the writing process by presenting process alongside product.
